Is Glenn beck a communitarian con-artist?

Oh Glenn, where are your tears?

“It’s no secret that Glenn Beck is a Communitarian, and his target audience is the asleep at the wheel politically conservative Christian. Since the past several decades of Christians have been raised on heavy doses of God and country (patriotism), his rhetoric all sounds copacetic. But when the trained ear recognizes that Beck is “pushing through the polarities of left and right in an effort to find a third way, [2]” his Communitarian schpeel takes on all new meaning.

Beck is promoting the "Third Way," and he wants to use the Tea Party to help fulfill a Luciferian global agenda toward world government. Many believe that the Libertarian Party is the Communitarian front for the globalist agenda, which develops a middle ground to the Left-Right paradigm. But now it seems to be spreading to include the Tea Party – which would pave the way for the ecumenical/spiritual aspect of the New World Orders new religious faith and the future Noahide Laws.

In the following video, I'm certain there would be several who would disagree with his perspective of how political parties are viewed from the grand scheme of things, but he still makes an attempt to win his audience over into the middle ground..." read more hr 1 Michael Shaw founder of Freedom Advocates joins me to discuss human settlements, the attack on your car and various other fun things the communitarians are implementing all over this planet. They are evil. Pure evil.

hr 2 Jerry Kirk joins me to chat. He is a freedom fighter and has a website where he has placed the information he has collected thus far called www.freedom-school.com He isn't looking for a dime, he's just trying to get the information that he has learned out to anyone who wants it.

The following is an article by Jim Kirwan

<http://rense.com/general92/agenda21.htm>

'In order to save the world we must first of all destroy the world, in order to remake our world in a sustainable way.'

AGENDA 21

A partial transcript of the 9 minute video http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TzEEgt0FFlM&feature=player_embedded

"Agenda 21 is the 1992 United Nations real declaration on the environment and development. It is the agenda for the twenty-first century for a 'Brave New World' where everything that you've cherished and held true will no longer exist.

Agenda 21 defines itself as 'the comprehensive plan of action' to be taken globally, nationally and locally by organizations of the United Nations systems. It also elevates nature above man and it contains something called the Precautionary Principle where basically you're guilty until proven innocent. Sustainable Development is the philosophy designed to bring human beings across the globe under the full control of a narrow human-elite. It's a forty chapter document to basically control the world. It's based entirely on social control mechanisms." (This was what George H. W. Bush had in mind when he introduced the need for a New World Order on September 11, 1990) (1)

"Sustainable Developers have designed a global movement coordinated through a global action plan to create world government in accordance with certain objectives. These objectives include an end to national sovereignty, the abolition of private property, the restructure of the family unit, and increasing limitations and restrictions on mobility and individual opportunity.

The 'Green Goal' includes the listings of 'what is not sustainable.' A couple examples include: Private property! Seven twenty-eight lists fossil fuels. Golf courses and ski-lodges are not (sustainable). Irrigation is not-sustainable. Paved roads; Consumerism agriculture, herbicides, pesticides; elsewhere it lists farmland, pastures, grazing of livestock and the family unit. The focus of sustainable development is the abolition of private property; societal undermining of the family and abandonment of the constitutional protection of unalienable rights as established in the Declaration of Independence.

In the 1990's . . . mother-earth's surface wasn't to be scratched. Human beings were to be concentrated into human settlement zones. Educational systems were to focus on the environment as the central organizing principle all aspects of life were covered.

I went to these committees at the request of some people who told me that I needed to understand what was going on and I came back and I said ' This is craziness, this is so silly it has no chance of having any effect on our society.' Well I was wrong.

The United States' government support for the sustainable development Agenda 21 is very clear: In 1992 while the real conference was going on, George Bush then president, was there where he executed the Agenda and the 21 protocols on behalf of the United States, and brought it back to Washington D.C. Within a year Bill Clinton, BY EXECUTIVE ORDER, no congressional review, established The President's Counsel for 'Sustainable Development.'

In Santa Cruz we've got a two lane freeway system, we need four but what we're getting is hundreds of millions of dollars in federal money to dig a dilapidated rail line that Southern Pacific wants to put in the hands of somebody else; so that a commuter line can be built along the railroad-track that will be followed by fourteen story buildings where people will live in

'stack-em and pack-em units where developers sop called 'sustainable developers' will be these highrises with federal dollars. In fact Santa Cruz has received a 300 million dollar federal grant to build the first three thousand of these stack & pack units. The county Board of Supervisors said that 'If you're a sustainable developer then you're immune from any construction 'defect liability.' It's a partnership (private) between selected developers building this New World Order and using tax-payer dollars in order to do it.

Biodiversity and Wildlands Project - USA

This is a map of the Wildlands Project. To explain the map the red are to be off-limits to human beings. No resource development, no human activity. If you live there you won't! The yellow areas are the areas for major control of all human activity. If you live there you won't.

The black dots are the 'smart-growth zones' where human beings are to be stacked and packed in small living-units along rail tracks. The smart-growth program also has jobs-assigned and children-cared-for by the state.

The question has been asked many times 'How the people that plan to perpetrate this will make it last, and the answer to that is that you steal a generation of children and you indoctrinate them so that they accept these ideas and they become 'Global Citizens' in the coming 'Global Village.'

UNESCO came out and declared 2005 and 2015 – The Decade for Education for ‘Sustainable Development.’ But they go on to say that it will encompass the forty-chapters of Agenda Twenty-One: And that is your federal national curriculum. The entire purpose of second grade social studies is to transfer loyalty from the family to the government; and to teach them about sustainable economic consumption. Students construct their own understandings of ‘reality’ and realize that objective reality is ‘not knowable’ so ‘why bother.’ The truth is the truth which keeps men free is being suppressed in order to prop up our new attitude training Agenda.

And it moves on: This is our new math they call it connected mathematics. Standard 3 tells us that mathematics is ‘man-made’ that it is arbitrary and good solutions are arrived at by consensus! Most of us assume that $2+2$ is always going to equal 4 You’re wrong we might reach a new consensus ($2+2=5$). How well does it work: Well they tell ya. In the teacher's guide in the back they tell ya that because the curriculum doesn't emphasize arithmetic computations done by hand, some students may not do as well on tests assessing computational skills. 'We believe such a trade-off in the favor of CMP is very much to the student's advantage, in the world of work.'

Our children are mathematically illiterate on purpose! How do I know on purpose? Why isn't this just a basic bad-idea? Because the Sustainable Development plan tells us so! 'Generally more highly educated people who have higher incomes can consume more resources, than poorly educated people who tend to have lower incomes. In this case more education increases the threat to sustainability.'

I did not believe for the longest time it was a deliberate policy the dumbing down: I thought the dumbing down was a natural consequence of a bad idea. Folks it's deliberate it's DELIBERATE!

The Sustainable Globalist-Goal is the orchestration of a planned fall of American principles, values and lifestyles. The effect on the average American will be devastating. With modernizing technology the ordinary person will live without independence, privacy, or substantive rights.

Another press-conference I attended was the ICLEI Group, the International Committee for Local Environmental Initiatives that helps in the implementation of Agenda 21 in all of our local communities. One of the speakers was a Harvey Rubin, the vice-chair of ICLEI, and I asked him about the correlative rights of Americans that Americans derive from the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights your individual liberties, your private property, your freedom of speech I asked about it clashing with Agenda 21 an you know what his response was! 'Individual rights must take a back-seat to THE COLLECTIVE.'" End of the transcription.

This garage has been part of a century's long war in which various criminal elements have always struggled for thousands of years to steal from everyone else the fruits of their own labor, and the right to determine what their own lives should be all about. Agenda 21 needs to be forcefully denied!

“There are two great powers that have been fighting since time began. Every advance in human life, every scrap of knowledge and wisdom and decency we have has been torn by one side from the teeth of the other. Every little increase in human freedom has been fought over furiously between those who want us to know and those who want us to obey and to be humble and to submit.” Taken from The Golden Compass Pg. 283, by Philip Pullman from the first book of his trilogy: Dark Materials”

If the people of the world do not firmly reject Agenda 21 and all of its blatantly criminal assertions, then we shall no longer have that “Universe” that supposedly we are all a part of...

Monday October 22nd

Kevin Eggers who writes the occasional article joins me to discuss Communitarianism. The grand poo-bah of them all. This is the philosophy driving UN Agenda 21. And UN Agenda 21 is part of the grand plan by the Rothschild family to rule the world. Kevin does a superb job of explaining what Communitarianism is. Kevin has his articles posted on the comment section of the Napa Valley Register however, they edit his commentary. www.napavalleyregister.com

Niki Raapana is the foremost expert on Communitarianism and has been researching it for over 12 years. Kevin doesn't have a website so look at Niki's. <http://nikiraapana.blogspot.com/>

Niki writes:

“Twenty-first century communitarianism is a philosophical, political, and legal theory. It combines every opposite theory in the history of the world. It's a projected vision for a new global order by the year 2020. It's what all of us should be socially evolving into.

Communitarians borrow ideas from ancient religions, Plato, Marx, Jefferson, Buber and Madame Blavatsky. Studying their theory is a nightmare. It's unfocused and vague. And, this new theory is nothing like what Fredric Bastiat called a valid scientific inquiry, as in one that "... proceeds by way of observation." Their new ideas are unoriginal and their methods are unscientific. We're being led into a solution which "... like astrology and alchemy, proceeds by way of imagination.” (Fredric Bastiat, Economic Harmonies)

Communitarian thinking actually reminds me a lot of the “alien theory.” Communitarians base all their ideas in rituals, ancient languages, and beliefs only their adepts understand. Like the most scholarly alien theorists, their ideas use facts that prove everything except whether or not aliens actually exist. As social evolutionists, communitarian gurus claim their best evidence lies in how many people feel their vibes and embrace their values. . .” read more

Tuesday November 29th Vicki Davis Channeling the truth about “efficiency”.

November 29th

Vicki Davis discusses computer systems and how that technology is used to create our green prison. We discussed economic development specialists; property rights councils, public/private partnerships, and how using technology they plan to enslave all of us using the guise of “efficiency”. The regulators have become partners with the people they were supposed to regulate. Vicki mentions the 1972 Stockholm Declaration which claimed that developed countries developed at the expense of undeveloped nations.

My guest was Don Casey co-founder of Keep Our Rights. He has been fighting against UN Agenda 21 for 20 years. We discussed the International Code Council, unified codes, Municipal code changes that change your home from conforming to non-conforming. What does amortization of non-conforming status mean? What is a comprehensive plan? Your county has one. Don thinks the idea of a Property Rights Council doesn't make sense. Find out why. Listen in and go to his website www.keepourrights.org for more info.

The Third Way ain't no way to live...

Niki Raapana writes

..."The Third Way agenda is simply a new way to revise the American legal system from within. Third Way founders need a shortcut in order to require more citizen responsibilities without actually going through the lengthy legal process required for amending the U.S. Constitution. U.S. law is based in the contractual agreements between free citizens and their government servants, called constitutions. The Third Way negates all legal and binding contracts. It requires formerly free, state citizens to volunteer to become bonded workers for the community. We've been hearing this from American presidents as far back as Teddy Roosevelt, and it was renewed again by George Bush the 1st:

"Our goal is to engage everyone in volunteering from every walk of life. We also believe that "people in need" should also volunteer as a way to learn how to reconnect themselves to their society and its resources. Ultimately, we want volunteering to become a way of life for every citizen; for people to believe that volunteering isn't just nice to do, but necessary." (1000 Points of Light mission statement, the Bush's favorite charity)"...

...In 1994, the Violent Crime Act was revised to validate and fund community policing, and Clinton thanked supporters at a DLC gala event with:

"We believe American citizenship entails responsibilities as well as rights. And we mean to ask our citizens to give something back to their communities and their country. I believe that, and if you do, we've got a great future."

"Now, this is what I want to say to you: You have to decide what your mission is in this new world, because the truth is, we are already making a difference in the new Democratic Party. In the last two years, despite the atmosphere of contentiousness and all the difficulty, more of the DLC agenda was enacted into law and will make a difference in the lives of the American people than almost any political movement in any similar time period in the history of the United States. And you ought to be proud of that."

Then Clinton called Community Policing, "a DLC idea, we've been advocating for it for years." When Clinton established his Council on Sustainable Development, every U.S. agency followed suit and changed their mission statements to reflect the new ideology of the Third Way. Every local community development planning team in the U.S. from 1995 onward included a community cop. By 1999, Community COPS were busy revising local noise and land use ordinances and training all city employees to serve inside inspection "warrants."...
