What's a little bondage...

What's a little bondage among friends, especially if your friend is a preschooler? Nothing wrong with dressing up in leather and chains when your four years old, is there? Nothing wrong with promoting it to kids who can't even read yet, is there? No. Not at all. Winnie the Pooh ain't got nothing on penguins dressed in bondage gear. Who could ever think there was something totally abnormal (yes, I wrote the A word) about promoting bondage to preschoolers? Why that's as normal as apple pie with ice cream, isn't it? All preschoolers, even school age kids should be taught the virtues of bondage. In fact, it should be mandatory, required for graduation.

"A New Zealand pre-school has taken off its shelves a book with pictures of penguins in bondage gear.

A pre-school in New Zealand has pulled a book from its shelves that had pictures of penguins in bondage gear.

A parent visiting the Sovereign Star Nursery and Preschool in Kaiapoi raised concerns about the book Gus and Waldo's Book of Love, The Press reports.

“The book of Love” ? Well that’s a misnomer now isn’t it?

*The pre-school has withdrawn the book but said young children reading it would be completely unaware of the significance of the clothing worn by the penguins.

Ever heard of subliminal messaging? This is in your face messaging. They are trying to tell you little kids won’t notice what the penguins are wearing? They won’t notice the whip and handcuffs in the picture. Yeah right. Why is it you would not show kids images of bloody murder scenes? BECAUSE THEY NOTICE!

The book is one of a series written by Italian author Massimo Fenati about two penguins, Gus and Waldo, but is not a children’s book.

NZ Ministry of Education contacted the Kaipoi pre-school after the mother of a three-year-old was visiting the centre with her child.

“I was there looking at it as a prospective preschool for my child, when other kids there brought the book over to me from the shelf and asked me to read it. I looked at it and said, ‘go choose another one’,” Lana McLean told The Press.

A description on Amazon about another book in a series about the penguins says they go on a shameless quest for instant fame including streaking at a World Cup final and forming a boy band.

No messaging in this book either. Yeah, right.

It is a description that led to the mix-up during ordering.

A statement from the pre-school's manager Brooke Philpott said: 'It is a humorous book depicting cartoon penguins that we had ordered wrongly thinking it was suitable for children given its use of brightly cartooned penguins. The offending bit that we did not spot until a much closer reading is that it depicts the two penguins in bondage gear.'

'The book is otherwise bright and funny.'

I am sure it is just a barrel of laughs.

Don't think this is an isolated event. it is not. If you haven't figured it out yet, this is cultural Marxism, it is happening in all Western nations and the solution is to home-school your kids. The goal of the cultural Marxists is the destruction of Western Man. Polluting minds is part of their strategy.

Cultural Marxism exposed

Here comes the latest example of Cultural Marxism slithering into a college class. Forget Shakespeare. We have this.

From The Tab

The headline reads

“Drama lecturer stuns freshers [freshman students] with graphic video of her vagina “...Sorry what?

Everyone wants a friendly lecturer, but these first years were lost for words after their Drama lecturer screened a bizarre video of her vagina.

Actress and PhD student, Lauren Barri-Holstein, unexpectedly upped the shock factor when, as part of an introductory presentation, she displayed a video clip from her recent production Splat!.

The graphic clip is described by Lauren as “feminist performance art concerned with the female body”, but it unabashedly exposes a lot more than her feminist values.

This isn't “art”. This is Dadaism. Do some research on Dada.

The intimate performance shows her inserting a knife handle into her vagina and throwing garish red tomatoes at the blade, giving birth to a small, plastic Bambi figurine, and blowing a condom out of her vagina – all to a background of Happy by Leona Lewis and Poison by Nicole Scherzinger.

‘...Lauren, creator of theatre company The Famous, said the work of art is relevant to her teaching module, Theatre and its Others, and terrified freshers by screening it in the first lecture back after Christmas.’

The what? They call this a “work of art”? Peeing on stage is art? Shoving knives in your vagina is art? They claim this is “relevant to her teaching module”. Exactly what is it she thinks she is “teaching”? The word vulgarity pops into my mind.

Apparently aimed at highlighting how theatre can incorporate intertextual references and dance, viewers were less concerned with her witty fairytale allegories, and more stuck on the fact they had unintentionally got up close and personal with their lecturer’s condom-boasting vagina and paint-spattered breasts, all bouncing around with pride in 10 times their original size.

The video also shows scenes where Lauren urinates on stage, dangles naked and gyrating from a harness on the ceiling, and even simulates masturbating with a tampon, spraying what appears to be blood directly onto a fellow actress’s face.

One scarred Drama student told The Tab: “It was surreal. I honestly didn’t know how to react.

Run for the hills.

“I don’t think I’ll ever be able to look her in the eye in person, it’s just weird.

This is now the education system in the Western World. The sole purpose is to destroy EVERYTHING about Western Civilization. I cannot stress this point enough.

“It’s not even the fact we saw her lady parts, it’s the fact I literally have no idea how the clip was in any way related to this module.

It isn’t related to anything other than destruction of Western Civilization at the hands of Cultural Marxists.

“It was just so extreme and I don’t understand why it was in any way necessary.”

It’s necessary if your goal is the total destruction of Western Civilization. And that is the goal of Cultural Marxism.

But another fresher holds a more sympathetic approach.

The fresher is not really “sympathetic”; rather unaware the entire education system in the Western World has been hijacked by cultural Marxists who seek to destroy everything she has ever known.

They said: "I understand her credo is to actively gross out the audience and challenge us, which does actually make sense.

Another brainwashed victim.

"She's really passionate about exposing our socially engrained expectations, so I'm going to suspend my judgement and wait until I get to know her better as a teacher."

"exposing our socially engrained expectations"...

Yeah, like not having your mores, standards, sense of modesty "peed" on?

A second year, and fan of Lauren, added: "She's amazing. Don't be scared off by how open she is.

"Splat! is shocking and all, but it's not completely without reason.

"When it comes down to it, she's invaluable to work with on the module and really helps people when they need a push in the right direction."

The "right" direction? Which direction is that kid? Off a cliff?

Tab art critic Matt McDonald said: "The trope of the female nude is as old as art itself.

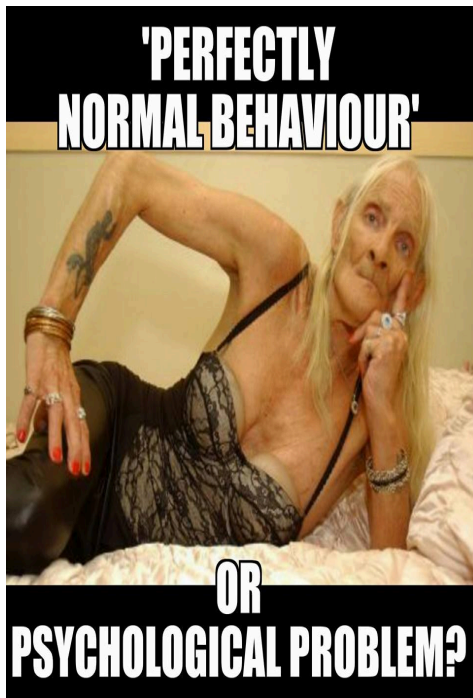

"Barri-Holstein's performance is the latest of many pieces which show us something about the genesis of humanity.

"In some ways, it's a profound Madonna and Child work. In others, it's a leftie with her rat out."

Sorry, Matt, ol' boy, but nothing this Marxist filth did has anything to do with Madonna and child. Nothing.

Lauren Barri-Holstein declined an interview about this story."

"Normalizing" abnormality

One of the goals of Cultural Marxists is to normalize abnormality. Cultural Marxism makes abnormal normal, and normal abnormal.

Pedophilia. Is it now the new norm in America? Read this twisted article wherein the attorney who wrote it attempts to normalize abnormality and decriminalize criminal behavior.

From NY Times

Pedophilia: A Disorder, Not a Crime

...Part of this failure stems from the misconception that pedophilia is the same as child molestation.

Is this legalese? Splitting hairs are we? Last time I checked child molesters are pedophiles.

Obviously this California judge agrees with her.

From DailyMailUK

"...Judge REDUCES prison sentence of man who raped 3-year-old while covering her mouth because 'he didn't intend to harm her'..."

Gee, I get. He didn't "intend" to harm her as he stuck his penis in her rectum so therefore he should get less jail time. NOW, if he "intended" to harm her, then what exactly changes ?

Read the rest here:

From the Missoulian

A Missouri judge made this decision.

"...Missoula man convicted of sexually assaulting a 5-year-old girl was sentenced Tuesday to 20 years with the Department of Corrections, with all but five years suspended..."

The article states the child needs counseling, the perp has a job and claims he is willing to pay for it so is that why the judge let the perp off? It's hard to tell from the poorly written article, but nevertheless, the perp got off easy.

From the TelegraphUK

"...Guardian: Paedophiles are 'ordinary members of society' who need moral support

“If there’s no bullying, no coercion, no abuse of power,” says Tom O’Carroll, “if the child enters into the relationship voluntarily ... the evidence shows there need be no harm....”

Children “voluntarily” entering into a relationship? Ya mean like the one he or she has with a teddy bear? “No harm”, he says. Really? The child isn’t harmed? WRONG!

<http://blogs.telegraph.co.uk/news/damianthompson/100196502/guardian-paedophiles-are-ordinary-members-of-society-who-need-moral-support/>

From the Guardian UK

An article entitled

“Paedophilia: bringing dark desires to light

...“Childhood sexual experiences, willingly engaged in with an adult,” it read, “result in no identifiable damage ... The real need is a change in the attitude which assumes that all cases of paedophilia result in lasting damage.”...”

The normalization of abnormality is Cultural Marxism at work.

Balance cultural beliefs

What does it mean to balance cultural beliefs? It means the tenets of Western culture: practices, mores, standards etc. will be ~~ignored~~ decimated to accommodate the immigrants/refugees/illegal aliens culture because we don't want anyone's feelings to be hurt and God forbid we should demand anyone coming into OUR nations assimilate into OUR culture.

Here's how balancing works.

Let's take healthcare. In all Western nations, hand washing is the FIRST line of defense against spreading disease. All healthcare workers are taught this, commercials advertise this, children are taught this. It's a standard of practice. NO disposable glove or gel hand sanitizer will replace it. The brilliant Englishman, Doctor Joseph Lister figured out the necessity of hand washing in the 1850's. Fast forward to today where now we have the cultural Marxist con job called multiculturalism and you have the Western culture destroying practice of balancing.

From the UK Telegraph we read

“Muslim staff escape NHS hygiene rule

Muslim doctors and nurses are to be allowed to opt out of strict hygiene rules introduced by the NHS to restrict the spread of hospital superbugs.

That's right. They don't need to follow the clothing, jewelry and hand washing standards that "restrict" which means prevent the spread of disease. Superbugs are germs that cause disease.

Female staff who follow the Islamic faith will be allowed to cover their arms to preserve their modesty despite earlier guidance that all staff should be “bare below the elbow”.

Can't have infection control standards interfering with modesty now can we? Why should a healthcare worker be "bare below the elbow" and not wear long sleeves? Because their clothing transfers germs from patient to patient.

The Department of Health has also relaxed rules prohibiting jewellery so that Sikh members of staff can wear bangles linked with their faith, providing they are pushed up the arm while the medic treats a patient.

Won't having some poop laden bracelet dangling in your wound be fun? Think the bracelet wearing so-called healthcare workers scrub their jewelry between patients? Not a chance in hell.

The Mail on Sunday reported the change had been made after female Muslims objected to being required to expose their arm below the elbow under guidance introduced by Alan Johnson when he was health secretary in 2007.

Gee, she didn't like exposing her arm. I have a solution. Leave.

The rules were drawn up to reduce the number of patients who were falling ill, and even dying, from superbugs such as MRSA and Clostridium difficile.

Yes, the rules prevent the spread of disease and death, but we can't have that, there might be hurt feelings. No hurt feelings are allowed.

Revised guidance which relaxed the requirements for some religions was published last month.

"Relaxed" means eliminated. In other words, they are no longer required to follow hygienic practices like not wearing long sleeves, not wearing dangling bracelets, scrubbing arms and hands that spread disease from patient to patient.

Some Muslim staff and those from other groups may be allowed to use disposable plastic over-sleeves which cover their clothes below the elbow and allow the skin to remain covered up.

NOTHING replaces hygiene practices created by Western man to prevent disease and death. Nothing.

Derek Butler, chairman of MRSA Action UK, said: "My worry is that allowing some medics to use disposable sleeves you compromise patient safety because unless you change the sleeves between each patient, you spread bacteria.

If they claim showing their forearm is immodest, how many do you think will change their sleeves between patients?

“Scrubbing bare arms is far more effective.”

He said it. Washing is MORE effective. Period. Do you need to know more?

A Department of Health spokesman said: “The guidance is intended to provide direction to services in how they can balance infection control measures with cultural beliefs without compromising patient safety.”

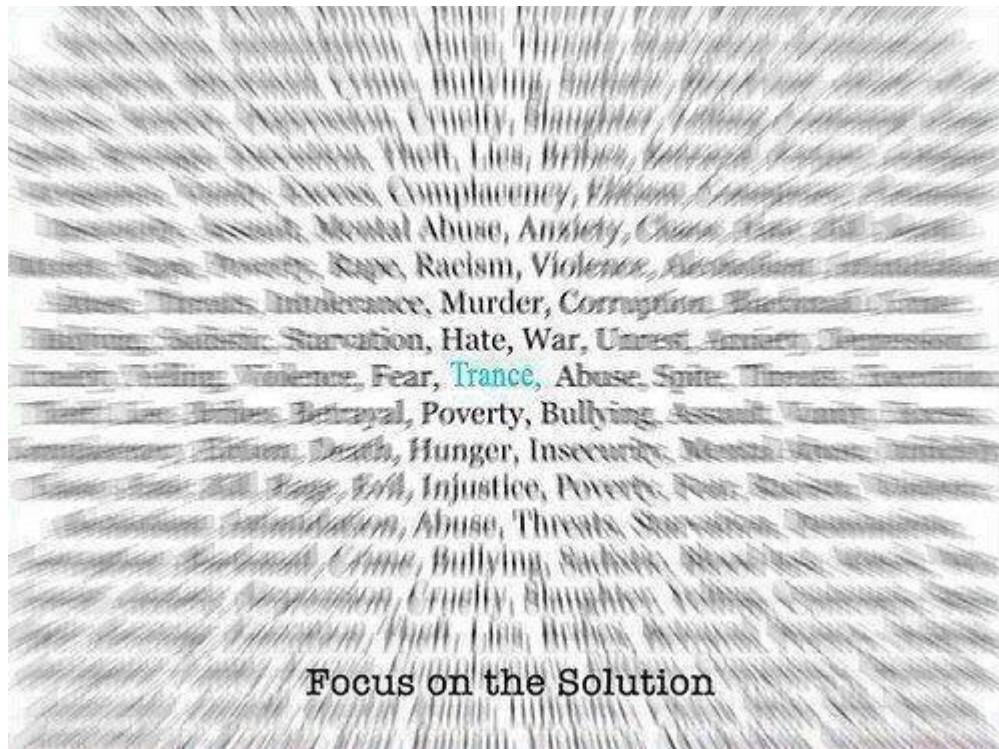

Balancing infection control measures with cultural beliefs while not compromising patient safety is NOT possible.

Non Western Cultural beliefs should NOT take precedence over Western healthcare standards. What non Western people choose to do in THEIR countries is okay with me.

Next time you hear they want to balance cultural beliefs you will know what they really mean. Simply more Cultural Marxist BS designed to destroy Western civilization.

Not smart enough...that's RACIST!

Should only the best and the brightest to be admitted into school, no matter what they look like? No. That's racist. In fact, no has been the name of the game for several decades and our nation is so much better for it. And if you think otherwise—you are a racist! Just ask these brainwashed dummies now claiming the University they attend is practicing, the “new Jim Crow”. Is it really racial discrimination or are the applicants simply not able to meet the academic standards set forth by the university? I mean, c’mon, at some point shouldn’t you just admit some people don’t have the skills to do the course work. No. That’s racist too. Everyone can be a brain surgeon. Didn’t you get the memo?

From The College Fix

“Disgruntled students at the University of Michigan have declared an alleged drop in minority enrollment a “national scandal” and representative of “the new Jim Crow,” and pledged in conjunction with community organizers at a recent strategy meeting on campus to “kick this university’s ass” and “shut the campus down” unless minority enrollment increases.

The comments were made by University of Michigan students as well as radical Ann Arbor-area activists with By Any Means Necessary, or BAMN, who were back on campus Friday night for what was dubbed a “public tribunal on hostile campus climate.”...

BAMN members repeatedly claimed Friday night that 3.7 percent of the fall 2014 freshman class at the University of Michigan is black – a figure they say is unacceptable and reflective of racist policies.

However, student Joseph Frailey in his speech to the crowd said: “I myself have never experienced racism on a personal level, but I’ve read numerous articles about racism occurring, and I’ve entertained the idea of this possibly happening to me.”

“Once you pop, you won’t have to stop”

“Once you pop, you won’t have to stop”. Oh baby, isn’t that special? I bet you cannot guess what they are referring to. It’s something they teach the kids in 5th grade. I’ll give you a hint. It doesn’t have anything to do with popcorn. Give up? Look here for all the fine facts of how to have anal sex being described to 5th graders in Chicago public schools and in some form, yours too.

More Cultural Marxist crap being spewed in our schools. Again, Johnny cannot find his state on a map, cannot tell you who the POTUS is, many “graduate” from high school being functionally illiterate, but who cares, let's teach the children how to "safely" stick their penis or a dildo in their classmates ass or how to have a penis or a dildo stuck "safely" in their ass. Nice.

From EAGNEWS

CHICAGO – A graphic sexual education curriculum meant for Chicago Public Schools' (CPS) fifth and sixth graders shocked parents during a presentation given during "report card pickup" at the Andrew Jackson Language Academy.

The presentation included slides that are clearly not age appropriate, and include "demonstrations" of applying male and female condoms (FC), DNAinfo reports.

While CPS spokesman Bill McCaffrey said in a statement that the “objectionable material presented at Andrew Jackson Language Academy this week is not and never was part of the student sexual education curriculum” as reported at the local NBC affiliate, the slides shown to parents are also posted at Waters Elementary School (now removed) as part of the “Sexual Health Education” curriculum for “Grade 6.”

Links to K-8 sex ed lessons can be found here. (now removed) It should be noted that Waters elementary indicates that they “opted out” of the condom demonstrations, which adds to speculation that the demonstrations were indeed a part of the curriculum.

The link below takes you to content of “lesson 5” .

<http://sntjohnny.com/front/wp-conte>

Feel-Good Reasons to Use FCs

- Once you pop, you won't have to stop!
 - FCs don't require an erect penis, so your partner doesn't have to pull out right after ejaculation.
- Feel the heat!
 - FCs adjust to body temperature, so both you and your partner can feel the heat.

How to Use FCs: Anal Insertion— Easy as 1, 2, 3

- When using FCs for anal sex, you have another option for insertion.
 - You can remove the inner ring and put the FC over an erect penis or a dildo, and then enter the anus.
- Be sure to use lots of lube and enter the anus slowly.

There's no antidote for the poison...

What is "Cultural Marxism"?
*Cultural Marxism has been dubbed "the greatest cancer in the Western world” but few even know what it is.

“Cultural Marxists” said they’d make the “long march through our institutions” and they have. Without exception, the “cultural Marxists” have undermined every institution we have. This is a direct assault on Christian values and their goal is to destroy Western Civilization by destabilizing our society. How do they do it?

Here is a perfect example. Concerned father William Baer objected to the lewd content in the so-called literature his fourteen year old daughter was assigned to read. Listen to the brief excerpt from this assigned text.

Kids can't add two plus two, can't locate our nation's capital on a map, don't know who Abraham Lincoln was, but they have them reading stories about screwing in their parents living room and cleaning sperm off the carpet.

This photo is from an event held at UC Berkley to celebrate National Condom Week.

from Campus Reform Feb 20, 2014

Games included condom tossing and something called, “pin-the-tail on the anus.” This is what they teach the kids in college. Forget Shakespeare’s The Merchant of Venice, we can toss condoms instead.

The innocent little elementary school kids in the photo were at Berkley for a visit. Lucky them. There’s no antidote for the poison they’ve injected into the minds of our youth. And they know it. You can’t un-ring a bell.

Campus Reform Feb 20, 2014

“A group of elementary and middle school students touring University of California – Berkeley last week were exposed to a man in a giant penis costume and school-sponsored sex games.

“All day long, little kids were prancing by the dental dam demonstrations, sex-themed games of chance, and the guy in the penis suit," student Claire Chiara said in an interview with Campus Reform Thursday.

The children were led through the campus quad while Berkeley students were playing "pin-the-tail on the anus" and tossing condoms through holes on a poster board meant to represent vaginas and anuses.

There was also a man dressed as a giant penis handing out condoms, although he was not permitted to hand them to the children.

The events were not spontaneous but pre-planned as part of the school's celebration of National Condom Week.

"Every day of the week, we have kids aged 6-18 touring our school, which is fantastic – but not during the National Condom Week," Chiara said. "It was poor planning on the part of the Tang Center to put up the Sex Ed tent in front of Sproul Hall, as that is the most popular spot on campus for tour groups to stop."

Got self-hatred? Get your freedom yoke today!

Self-hatred and white guilt are on the loose. Get your “freedom yoke” today. Bind yourself with the chains of freedom and you’ll feel better in the morning. Don’t forget a yoke a day keeps the truth away....

James Edwards author of the superb book Racism, Schmacism (buy it here) and host of The Political Cesspool Radio Show heard every Sat night from 6p-9p CST on <https://thepoliticalcesspool.org> had the following article on his website entitled:

White Families Wear Yokes While

Apologizing For Slavery

“If you’ve ever felt the need to apologize for slavery, today is your lucky day!

A group called The Lifeline Expedition will put you in chains and let you be humiliated by blacks, all in the name of healing.

NEWPORT – The sight of a 13-year-old boy with a yoke over his head and his hands tied in chains was perhaps the most controversial image in Thursday’s “slavery reconciliation march” through the streets of Newport.

Jacob Lienau of Camano Island in Washington said he decided on his own to wear the yoke and chains after seeing a painting of African slave children wearing them in the 19th century, and hearing about the march.

Lienau and his large family, including his parents, Shari and Michael Lienau, and their four biological children and five adopted children, are part of the Lifeline Expedition that is visiting prominent American slave-trading ports from the Colonial era this month. They marched in Marblehead, Salem and Boston in Massachusetts earlier this week and in Providence on Wednesday.

“We recognize this is an unusual form of symbolic action,” said a brochure the marchers handed out to passersby. “Our hope and prayer is that this form of apology will speak in ways that words cannot.”

The group submitted a letter to the Newport City Council, asking the council to vote on a letter of apology for the city’s past involvement in the slave trade. City councils in Liverpool and Bristol in England approved such letters.

The group then left Newport for Virginia, where they will march in Richmond, Jamestown and Williamsburg, and then on to South Carolina, where they will march in Charleston... READ the rest here:

racists.

Tim Wise is a nice Jewish man who gets paid big bucks to go around the country to speak at high schools and colleges to tell White kids to hate themselves. In case you are not “tuned in” to who is doing what to whom, it is dangerous for you to remain ignorant. Colin Flaherty wrote a book entitled, White Girl Bleed A Lot. I suggest you take a look at it. The MSM often does not specifically tell you “who” the perpetrators of many crimes are because the “social justice” con artists claim that information is “racist”. They will claim “youths” or “teens” or “students” or a “mob” did it, but they rarely describe who the aforementioned are. I know you have been brainwashed into believing its racist to notice – wrong! It is racist to hide facts from people. You have a right to know. Forewarned is forearmed.

The purpose of flooding this nation with millions of illegal aliens and legal immigrants is to eliminate the descendents of the founding settlers i.e White people and their culture. Who Wants To Destroy Western Civilization?

Marxists want to destroy Western civilization. Marxism is synonymous with Communism and Bolshevism. Marxists are everywhere. They disguise themselves well. Some Marxists will even change their name in an effort to hide their true identity such as the founder of Marxism, Karl Marx whose real name was Mordechai Levy , or Vladimir Lenin whose real name was Vladimir Ilych

Ulyanov, or Leon Trotsky whose real name was Lev Davidovich Bronstein.

Marxists typically appoint a puppet to sit on the “throne” while they lurk behind the curtain pulling the strings in order to direct their “front men” and advance their agenda. Aleksandr I. Solzhenitsyn said, “The Communist ideology is to destroy your social order. This has been their aim for 125 years and it has never changed; only the methods have changed a little...And what is ideological war? It is a concentration of hatred, a continued repetition of the oath to destroy the Western world.”

And what is the Western world? Everything Christian and ethnic European is the “western world”. Europe, the United States, Canada, Australia and New Zealand make up the “Western” world.

Let's undermine traditional values, shall we?

The roots of the United Nations – the most visible part of the new global management system – might be compared to the many deep and spreading roots of a tenacious vine. Some of the roots are short and shallow. Others are long and deep, firmly imbedded in powerful social, political and financial institutions in Europe and North America, which – for various reasons – shared Lord Tennyson's vision of a “federation of the world.”

The tangled roots of this vine spread beneath the surface of public life until 1945, when delegates from 50 countries met in San Francisco to sign the UN Charter. Communist spy, Alger Hiss, co-authored that founding charter and served as the first acting UN Secretary-General. This initial glimpse of the global agenda should have raised a big red flag. But our war-torn world was already blinded by the well-publicized vision of a peaceable planet “lapt in universal law.” Who dared oppose such a noble purpose?

Actually, many Americans did see the sign posts along the way, but their warnings were drowned out by the mainstream media's resounding praise. Small wonder! The 25 main U.S. newspapers had been bought by the banking goliath, J. P. Morgan – one of the stronger stems in the vine's tangled root system.

The young vine grew fast and its branches spread throughout the world. The signs of political and social compromise multiplied. It was no secret that each consecutive socialist Secretary General – Trygve Lie (from Norway but recommended by Russia), Dag Hammarskjöld (Sweden), U Thant (Burma), Kurt Waldheim (Austria), etc. – sympathized with Communism and helped build an imposing web of international declarations and treaties (“soft” laws) that would overrule constitutional rights and domestic laws in America.

For decades only Communist leaders would fill the UN’s highest military post, Under-Secretary-General for Political and Security Council Affairs. Fourteen of the fifteen men who held this vital post up until 1995 (and probably into the new century[2]) represented the USSR. The one exception was Dragoslav Protitch, a Communist from Yugoslavia. So when American soldiers fought Communism in Korea and Vietnam in partnership with the UN, the top UN military leaders were Communists. No wonder American soldier fought two futile and deadly wars.

How could the public be so deceived? Part of the answer lies in subtle power of gradualism – the incremental steps that function like the proverbial frog in the pot of slow-heating water. You become so used to gradual change that you hardly notice the next step.

Just as important is the grand vision of global peace, which burns in the heart of many idealists who have learned to hate war. These two – vision and gradualism – serve to both motivate and deceive the masses at the same time. Of course, many of the leaders who utilize these strategies have more totalitarian goals in mind.

That quest began long for Alfred Lord Tennyson penned his visionary poem, Locksley Hall. History points to monumental feats such as the Tower of Babel, the vast Hittite, Babylonian and Persian civilizations and, later, the Greek, Roman, Byzantine and Muslim empires. In more modern times the world watched with awe as “civilized” nations such as Russia and Germany sacrificed personal freedom and millions of lives on their altars to Soviet and Nazi dreams of totalitarian socialism.

Hindsight helps us trace the early, incremental steps toward a world government, and we can now look back at a foundation laid by an eclectic blend of socialist visionaries, global-minded financiers, communist revolutionaries, secret societies, New Age leaders, wealthy capitalist and tax-exempt foundations primarily in Great Britain and the USA. Long before the United Nations became an official organ under socialist leadership, that early vision had spread through all the main institutions. The Aquarian Conspiracy, summarized its nature well: As Marilyn Ferguson wrote in The Aquarian Conspiracy, “Broader than reform, deeper than revolution, this benign conspiracy for a new human agenda has triggered the most rapid cultural realignment in history... There are legions of conspirators. They are in corporations, universities and hospitals, on the faculties of public schools, in factories and doctors’ offices, in state and federal agencies, on city councils and the White House staff, in state legislatures, in volunteer organizations, in virtually all arenas of policy-making in the country... They have coalesced into small groups in every town and institution.” The Aquarian Conspiracy, summarized its nature well: [\[3\]](#) pages 23-24

To fulfill this dream of a New World Order that would serve the grandiose economic and social interests of its early visionaries, two steps were essential:

1. Establish an efficient global management system that would join the nations of the world through processes that would appear “democratic” and would produce compliance with specific sets of goals and standards.

2. Use this management system to mold minds, undermine sovereignty, establish social solidarity and train a mobile global workforce through –

- The redistribution of human and financial resources (through migration, a global economy and a global welfare system).

- A uniform worldwide education system that would standardize both social “learning” and work skills everywhere.

- Control of the mainstream media and other propaganda channels. Professor Carrol Quigley wrote in Tragedy and Hope,

“There grew up in the 20th century a power structure between London and New York which penetrated deeply into university life, the press, and the practice of foreign policy. The American branch of this ‘English Establishment’ exerted much of its influence through five American newspapers (New York Times and Herald Tribune, Christian Science Monitor, Washington Post...) [\[4.Quigley, 953\]](#)

- A supportive “civil society” (including business, community groups, the news and entertainment media, churches, etc) prepared to lead the masses toward cultural and religious synthesis in communities and organizations around the world using the dialectic process – a strategy well tested and proven in the former Soviet Union. (Many participants – including churches – may never know how their new business practices and small group dialogues help undermine traditional values and prepare their members for the new global society.)

Few people today understand what communism really is...

Few people today understand what communism really is and just where the political battle lines are actually drawn. But if you crack open a dictionary and look up the term “Dialectical Materialism.”

You should find something like this:

“A philosophy founded by Karl Marx... which forms the basis of Communist doctrine: it combines the materialistic idea of matter over mind with the Hegelian dialectic in which opposing forces are constantly being reunited at a higher level.” – Lexicon Webster Dictionary

But that definition might beg the question, “What is the Hegelian dialectic?” For modern man, the answer to that question is epic. The Hegelian dialectic has profoundly impacted the world in which you live.

“What is communism?”

The Dialectic: Fomenting the Revolution

The concept of the dialectic has been around for a long time. It is simply that of opposite positions: Thesis (position) vs. Antithesis (opposite position). In traditional logic, if my thesis was true, then all other positions were by definition untrue. For example, if my thesis is $2 + 2 = 4$, then all other answers (antithesis) are false. Georg W.F. Hegel, the nineteenth century German philosopher, turned that concept upside down by equalizing Thesis and Antithesis. All things are now relative. There is no such thing as absolute truth to be found anywhere. Instead, "truth" is found in Synthesis, a compromise of Thesis and Antithesis. This is the heart and soul of the consensus process.

This is diametrically opposed to the...Christian world-view prevalent in the Western world for the better part of two millennium that held that God existed, that He existed outside of the material creation and that man had a moral obligation to Him and His laws. God was transcendent and thus truth was absolute and transcendent, outside of our ability to manipulate it.

This all changed with Hegel and modern man was born. Man could now challenge any authority and position, even God. Since there is no such thing as absolute truth, "my truth" is just as good as "your truth", so don't tell me what to think or how to behave. As Nietzsche, the "God is Dead"

philosopher, would later say, “There is absolutely no absolute.” Now $2 + 2$ can equal 5, or 17, or whatever you feel is right... read more here
