

FIGHT UN AGENDA 21

Agenda 21 Implementation

UN Compilation of all National Reports

Fight UN Agenda 21.

Get educated.

Tell others what you have learned.

Here are some ways to fight UN Agenda 21. Go to meetings: zoning, school board, water board, town council, planning, commissioner, metropolitan planning organization, COG council of government, transportation authority, church (even if you don't belong, go anyway and take a few handouts with you), Jay Cees, Knights of Columbus, VFW, etc, take them info (print out some handouts from my site or many of the others I have linked to, I have included a couple handouts below).

Arm yourself with information and join forces with others who are fighting. The fight is local. they are implementing this right in your backyard. If you don't know anyone in your neighborhood that is fighting back, then start a group yourself. Meet-up is a great way to find like-minded people so go there, start looking and start a group. Contact me and I can help you get started. The time is now!

Find out about what you need to do to put info on your local public access tv station. My radio show from Jan-13-2012 had a caller who knew a lot about it. Listen to the podcast for ideas. (search the archives to easily find the show)

Make good use of that junk mail everybody gets. Send a handout back in the postage paid envelope (don't waste your $.42 on postage, if it's not prepaid) or take that envelope, write a short comment on it including a website for people to go to and leave it on a shelf/counter in the grocery store, drug store, gas station, give it back to the server thru the drive thru window. Leave it on the table after you finish your meal at a restaurant.

All you need to write is something such as:

on what they really mean (designed as a trifold pamphlet)

SD info Or if you want to make your own handouts, this one has a ton of info you can use. This one is several pages so if you print it out, I suggest double sided.

There are other handouts on these websites as well as some of the others I link to:

Anti-AGENDA21 BILL Ask your legislators to submit a bill for your state too.

If you cannot find a group fighting against this in your town, start one. Meetup is a website where people can go to find like-minded people.

Leave comments after all articles you read online, send letters to the opinion section of your local paper. There are several locally oriented websites: Patch is liberal, but it might be worth your time. <http://www.patch.com/> Can you write? See if you can start writing for the Examiner <http://www.examiner.com/>

Get a bull horn and man the sidewalk. Hold signs. Get creative. Some people may take note of what you are attempting to tell them about.

And if you don't bother to do anything, here's a handout you can give to your kids.
